Dear Mrs. Word:

First of all, I would like to thank you for allowing Blake to miss school last week so we could take a vacation.

Secondly, we reviewed Blake's ISTEP test results, and needless to say, we were very pleased. Clearly, Blake's performance on the ISTEP test is a reflection of your superior teaching abilities and techniques. We feel fortunate that Blake was placed in your first grade class not only because you obviously hold your students to a high standard, but because you make a concentrated effort to recognize and develop specific skills in your students as you did with Blake in his art work.

We sincerely hope that as Blake advances through the various grade levels that he is fortunate enough to have teachers of your high quality, standards and ability.

Sincerely,

Richard L. Lappan
